THE LAW OF FORGIVENESS

The Law of Forgiveness is that law which permeates the principles of Divine Feminine and Masculine, as they exist within duality. The Law of Forgiveness nullifies the structures of self-harm, creating alignment with Universal Law, and magnifies the impact of Grace and Love throughout all dimensions. In alignment with Universal Law, energy permeates all that has ever been and all that will ever be and all energy is sentient; thus the Law of Forgiveness is accurately directed toward one, or, all hearts. The Act of Forgiveness, in its highest form, accepts responsibility for all It experiences, transforming the geometries of guilt, fear, anger, bitterness into the geometries of Love, Grace, and Mercy.

This law is activated whenever an act of self-harm is inflicted and the Law of Love & the Law of Grace generate a field of synergy, which the Law of Forgiveness fills. The Act of Forgiveness is the Divine Union of duality and creates the Sacred Form of vesica piscis. The Law of Forgiveness becomes magnified as it expands beyond the field of synergy and as it is received by those attached to the soul of origin, it calls to action the Law of Attraction. This chain reaction is seen within the natural laws governing the movement of the oceans upon the surface of the planet.

This Awareness will now pause for a moment to reinforce the boundaries to limit interference. This Awareness acknowledges the understanding of the Divine Feminine principle has been distorted and misunderstood. The power of this principle has been skewed and allowed to become framed in a distorted perception. This Awareness perceives this distortion exists within the mindset of most humans upon this planet.

This distorted perception has allowed for all souls choosing to incarnate within the feminine form to incarnate, and find themselves unable to complete their soul purpose as a result of an inability to properly align. This Awareness acknowledges steps have now been taken to unravel the skewed perception. These steps that have been taken will allow this Awareness to provide specific information to the membership that will encourage and deepen the Feminine Principle’s availability upon the planet.

As the Divine Feminine principle comes into alignment, the souls of all individuals incarnate in a female body upon the planet will become instantly aligned as well. The earth will then have access to energy necessary for her healing. The nature of prolific self-harm experienced by the female population of the planet is in part precipitated by this misalignment.

This gross misrepresentation of the feminine principle that has been orchestrated and allowed to be passed from generation to generation, from religion to religion upon the planet, has allowed the creation of a fictitious or partitioned sense of domain. This Awareness is indicating that women upon this planet, those engaged in a female incarnation, have been misled to perceive their domain as highly limited in nature.

In truth, in reality, and in accordance to Universal Law, their domain is much larger. The domain of the feminine principle extends beyond that of the male domain, in accordance with natural law, while inhabiting a planet that resonates within a feminine principle structure.

This Awareness indicates there are planets that sustain life of a humanoid nature and presentation whereupon the planet resonates within the structure of masculine principle. Upon these planets, it is defined that the masculine or male-incarnated individuals carry a higher degree of responsibility to the maintenance of the planet’s health.

This can be understood when one reviews the information previously given regarding the dynamic structures between all structures. This Awareness indicates future readings will continue to elaborate upon this development as well as the naming of those foundations and individuals that are responsible for this shift in consciousness. This opening message is now complete.

THE DIVINE FEMININE

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness acknowledges a calling to attention of the Divine Feminine. The energetic structures of the Divine Feminine have been under attack for many, many centuries upon the planet. This Awareness wishes to indicate that the planet of earth as being defined as feminine is not a coincidence. This planet of earth is feminine in its nature.
QUESTIONER:
Thank you Awareness. What caused this misalignment of female energy?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness acknowledges it was a tenfold process, elaborately constructed to very carefully alter the structure of the feminine principle as it became reflected in the bodies of those incarnated upon the planet. These alterations began at a quantum level, within the para-physical structures created when a soul begins the formation of selves that is achieved at the point of conception.

These shifts in structure have been very quietly laid in place over many thousands of years.

QUESTIONER:
Awareness said that It will be revealing in future messages more about this subject. Will you be revealing when the realignment will be corrected?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
The realignment will be determined by those souls receiving the information, and their willingness and their choice to accept the process of realignment.

CAC General Reading, February 24, 2016; Michelle Interpreter; V. Giles, Questioner & Energizer

JUDGE SCALIA MURDERED

QUESTIONER:
Okay. The first question is from WG, in New Haven Connecticut. “You may have gotten this question a dozen times by now, but did Judge Scalia die from natural causes? There was no autopsy, not that its findings would have ever been released if there had been one, and I wondered immediately upon hearing of his death if it wasn’t an assassination. If it was, who did it and why?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness acknowledges this entity died as a result of injected intoxicants. This Awareness indicates there were at least three separate parties that were sent to ensure his timely demise. This Awareness indicates that the soul that has departed known as Scalia is fully aware that his life was taken by an act of force, for the intention of manipulating the population of the United States.

This Awareness indicates there is a great deal of movement currently within the secret societies that are jockeying for control over the United States’ population at this time. There are hundreds of small groupings. Each has been led to believe that they have the ability to come out on the top, with the ability to sit at the big table. This Awareness indicates this is designed to create a fervor among the secret societies so that they will expose themselves in their desperate attempt to come out in a place of power.

This Awareness would suggest that instead of trying to track, to simply sit back and observe the bigger picture, for their desperation has a frequency, a taste, a smell that will easily be detected in the coming months, Does this answer the question?

QUESTIONER:
To a certain extent, Awareness said rather than thinking more about it to sit back and observe. This does change the dynamics of the United States in this presidential election time, with many things. Does Awareness see this being exposed as what it is before the election time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness observes the majority of the population of the United States is in understanding that his death was not an accident and that it was a premeditated purposeful death. This Awareness observes it was the intention of those that sought to take his life to create just this type of fervor and distraction, for there are other movements in play. The entities that are seeking to transition within the hierarchy of the ruling families are attempting to create leverage and coverage of specific areas, to create blind spots, allowing these transitions to go as planned. Does this answer the question?

QUESTIONER:
I should know better than to ask this, but I’m going to. So it’s not necessarily just because he was serving as a judge. It’s way, way deeper than that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
His position, the status of his opinions is an irrelevant reason for his demise. He was executed for the purpose of creating a substantial level of vying for power by those parties within the United States: the secret societies that are seeking to have a hand in the pot that is coming to boil. There are many prophecies that are coming to culmination this year and the next. Along with these prophecies comes the potential to save one’s community or to have it be destroyed.

Thus, there is a great fight to sit at the table and acquire the illumination necessary to save one’s beliefs and those that follow them. Does this answer the question?
DONALD TRUMP AND THE NATURE OF POLITICAL POWER

QUESTIONER:
Yes. The second question is from JG, in San Francisco, CA. She sends an article that says, “Donald Trump is hypnotizing the GOP, literally!” The question is, “Donald Trump does appear to have a good chance of becoming president. What effect would this have on the trajectory of the timeline for the US? What part did the powers that be have in his running for president, and for what purpose?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness acknowledges there is a great deal of confusion surrounding the potential for the individual Trump to become president. This Awareness suggests looking beyond the façade of the individual that is presented as running. These individuals that are running, truly are doing just that: they are running.

Their souls have agreed to adhere to specific stipulations, sacrifices. These souls are seeking to hold a position of power, for selfish purposes. This is critical to understand. The population of the United States, along with many of the world’s population is under the influence of hyper-controls. Anyone that is put into a position of power over these souls must adhere to the tenets of that contract.

They must agree to the sacrifice of a certain portion of their community, to inflicting a specific degree of harm, both upon themselves and upon those they govern.

QUESTIONER:
Awareness, is this only those who pursue political power? Or is this also true to the heads of corporations and companies and things like that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This specific alignment of structure for sacrifices is specific to those in positions of controlling entire populations. Corporations are the lordships, the lesser dominant. This Awareness is providing a reference of the king, who has lords and princes and squires and each is assigned a specific level of responsibility, a specific reign for their domain.

This is a structure that is very familiar. It is a structure used by those that colonize. It is a structure that becomes sentient via the life force of those that willingly comply, and it is reinforced by those that are sacrificed to its maintenance. This Awareness would suggest that if an individual is seeking to understand the course of a nation, one should look deeper and look from one’s heart, and use that discerning tool that is the heart and command to truly see the energies that are at play.

These entities that are running for the power position—to use an analogy, they are running a hamster wheel, and the hamster wheel is a propaganda machine, and as it spins, it is siphoning life force energy from those that are supporting. These entities must prove to the Controllers, those within the hierarchical family, that they have the ability to sustain a specific charge from the population. This becomes a deposit on their residency within the house of power. It is a down payment.

Each of these souls has positioned themselves to make a sacrifice of some aspect of the United States’ population. This is kept in the background, hidden from view of the majority, the general population, yet this is information that is well known behind the scenes.

QUESTIONER:
So, each candidate would have a certain segment of the population that it is going to sacrifice to be the winner?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This is correct, yes.

QUESTIONER:
It seems with Trump, the people that are supporting him are people that are saying they’ve had enough of the government, and that they like his ridiculous approach of doing whatever he wants, getting rid of the status quo, but it seems that this appeal is almost a desperation from people who are in such a controlled state right now, and it’s not going to help.

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness observes there was a decision made to allow Trump to become a voice for the people. This Awareness references the animated shows that indicated many years ago that he would become their spokesperson. This is to indicate that this individual’s journey into the limelight of being a presidential candidate has been long coming.

This Awareness indicates there is a faction of the ethnocentric secret societies that have determined through great and costly research, that he could reach a specific fervor point, a certain level of energetic siphoning of life force energy. It is for this reason and this reason alone that the entity Trump is where he is at this time.

This Awareness indicates that the entire population of the United States is controlled. It is living within a construct of heavily controlled environments. This is observed within Europe, Russia, China, Australia and Japan as well as many of the smaller governments.
QUESTIONER:
The fact that Trump stirs up a frenzy of emotions—is that for the farming of these energies that Awareness has spoken of before, of providing these energies as delicacies for certain aliens?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness indicates the energies that are derived from the running candidates, Trump included, are designed to become a deposit upon their position within the house. The life force energies that are derived are specifically intended to demonstrate their ability to collect energy from the population of the United States.

QUESTIONER:
Are all of the candidates aware of what they are actually giving up when they are running?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness wishes to indicate that any individual that has risen to a place of power, whether it is the position of corporate leadership or within the government, there is an underlying rule that is followed: that with their rise to power, there will always be sacrifices. It is the name of the game. It is a dog eat dog world. There can only be one winner.

QUESTIONER:
It is a structure maintained by the blood and suffering of others. This is specific to children upon this planet. Concerning the concept of ‘good guys’—there are good people, hearts that care within the structures of power that exist upon this planet. Their ability to care and to act upon that care is in direct opposition to their ability to maintain their station. In order to maintain their position, their station of power, they must remain in compliance with the rules of that game in which they play.

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness indicates that in order to participate in these sentient breathing structures created by those who seek to control humanity, one must agree to play by their rules. If an individual that has chosen to abide by their rules to acquire a level of power, and this Awareness wishes to indicate at this time that power is herein defined as that ability to govern through any use necessary over a population, this is not the use of power within Universal Law. If one were to apply Universal Law to this structure, it would dissolve.

This is to indicate that in every structure of power currently in existence within the civilized structures of this planet, Universal Law is absent. This is to say it is in misalignment with Universal Law. These structures that are currently upheld on the planet with the nature of power, are in opposition to many of the fundamental Universal Laws and natural laws. They are funded completely by the sacrifice of those that hold that power.

THE ZIKA VIRUS

QUESTIONER:
The next question is from JG in San Francisco, CA. “Could Awareness comment on the Zika virus? It’s home is apparently Africa. Is its spread planned by the Powers That Be, and for what reasons? Apparently its effects go beyond babies born with small heads, Guillain-Barre syndrome, and possible unseen as yet neurological problems in normal appearing babies infected with this virus. Thank you.”

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness observes the virus defined as Zika is in no way responsible for the outcomes that have been presented in this question. This Awareness suggests that the outcomes presented in this question are the result of specifically targeted chemical and nanotechnology warfare precipitated against a very specific gene pool.

This Awareness observes it is a gene pool, a population that produces a great deal of offspring. These mothers live in rural areas and have not been exposed to a great deal of the chemical treatments used upon the populations of other ‘civilized’ countries such as the United States. For this reason, those souls entering through these mothers have profound abilities to connect to their soul and to the earth.
For this reason, these souls, choosing to enter through these mothers, have the ability to heal the planet and develop methods of communication that transcend time and space. The Powers That Be are seeking to curtail this evolutionary step upon the planet. Their efforts to create a false flag event have been successful enough to create fear within the populations desired.

This Awareness suggests there is still the possibility for the unraveling of this false-flag event to reach the mainstream media. This Awareness indicates the Powers That Be are closely observing the population’s thought processes on this subject. This Awareness wishes to acknowledge at this time that the Powers That Be, otherwise referred to as the Controllers, have been required to take a step back from the implementation of their plans.

The earth is now generating specifically focused fields of energy as the human frequency increases to a level in which they are unable to precipitate controls upon the population’s thought processes. These eruptions of resonant frequency will become evident as the sun begins to respond to the earth’s communication.

This Awareness indicates it is the earth’s attempt and intention to utilize the crystals within the caverns of the earth to facilitate the beginning magnifications of healing frequencies upon the planet. It was the task of the minions of the Controllers to prevent this from transpiring, and they have failed. The earth has succeeded.

This Awareness will suggest again at this time the importance of aligning oneself with the discerning nature and abilities of the heart, for these increases in this human frequency resonance of the earth will also increase the rate at which time is experienced upon the planet. Time anomalies will become more commonplace. The shifting of the tectonic plates within as heard by the sonic booms across the planet are prime indicators of these transitions. This is now complete.

QUESTIONER:

Thank you Awareness. I do have a couple of questions about this. The original question about the Zika virus and about the mothers; how are they targeted? I’m assuming this began in Brazil, because that is where the media is saying it comes from.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is the epicenter, correct.

QUESTIONER:

How are the mothers targeted? And is the Zika virus being used in the same way as the previous virus was that was supposed to kill us all, in order to scare people?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Zika virus is only as powerful as the scalar technology used upon it to create within its vehicle something that does not truly exist within it. It is not the virus itself that precipitates any problems within the human form that cannot be easily and readily resolved. It is the application of scalar technology to the virus itself, targeting specific populations.

Once this frequency is emitted and implanted within the virus carrier, the virus itself becomes a host, much like what was defined and described by those that are committing specific shootings, previously expressed by this Awareness. This is a similar technological step, wherein the energetic structure of the virus is being utilized to create a specific event within the bodies of the women that are carrying children, and/or possess the possibility of carrying children.

QUESTIONER:

So the Zika virus is not manmade. It is just being used.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Zika virus is man-made. It is in its most basic components natural. The manipulations this virus has gone through to make it available as a host are entirely manipulations perpetrated upon a natural existing structure by man.

QUESTIONER:

How can women who are pregnant, or who could be pregnant, protect themselves from this nanotechnology, or is it only a certain type of people that are being targeted with this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness observes their current population of intent is that of the African continent, specifically those areas wherein the forests are ample. The jungle structures prevent a great deal of the government’s attempt to control the population, and so this is a targeted area and an effort to eliminate the earth’s efforts to protect the populations living within those areas.

QUESTIONER:

Thank you Awareness. How will the sun respond to the earth’s request in the second part of your answer?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The earth will attract more kinetic energy from the sun to charge the ionosphere of the planet, which in turn, facilitates an even greater charge within the planet’s surface, allowing the shifting of energies and structures to more easily and rapidly take place.

QUESTIONER:

Is this happening now?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness observes at this time that time itself is in flux. To provide a timeframe for these transitions to take place is therefore complicated. This Awareness will generously offer the passing of the moon through 6 more cycles, as the definition of months has become transient and unreliable as a defining point of time.
AFFECTING CHANGE IN AN ELDERLY LOVED ONE

QUESTIONER:

Thank you Awareness. The next question is from JM, from Orange, California. “Regarding the nature of the genetic transformation within family lines during the current time line, and a parent’s being able to positively impact their children and even their adult children with the flipping of switches that will be heightened or accelerated over the period of the next five years, due to the nature of the parent to the child.

My question is: What about the impact of an adult child changing and effecting change within an elderly parent in terms of releasing the past and exorcising family demons?

I have been living with and taking care of my elderly mother for the past 8 years since my father passed away. As a result of my influence, I’ve noticed a marked change in my mother. Even though she is increasingly infirmed, and at times exhibits symptoms of dementia with the progression of Parkinson’s, I have noticed on another level, her emotional outlook and openness to new ideas has actually improved. She is more open to concepts that she would not ever have entertained before.

For example, in the past year or so I have gotten her away from watching Fox News at night. Instead I have turned her on to Star Trek Deep Space 9, Star Trek Voyager and Stargate SG-1. As we watch the episodes on streaming video, I explain to her concepts such as alternate timelines, time travel and alternate realities, and she seems to understand what I am talking about and enjoys the episodes.

Would Awareness please comment?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness acknowledges the transition of the energies allowing for the genetics to shift can come from both the parent and the child. This is a reciprocal relationship, specific in its dynamics, in its ability to create a two-way exchange of energy. As each soul seeks its highest alignment and experience, if the child’s energy is in greater soul alignment than the parent, its transitions are more easily facilitated when proximity is experienced, as the merging of the energetic fields allows for communication to occur.

This is not in reference to verbal communication, though this is helpful as well. This is specific to a transference of energy between the heart fields. This Awareness wishes to indicate, that if one is conscious of one’s heart space, one’s ability to extend that heart space or heart field to include the parent at a great distance, this transference will also occur. This requires a level of awareness that is not generally found within humanity at this time.

The human experience, the experience of being incarnate, calls for constant metamorphosis, the breathing of energetic structures so that alignment becomes available, an ever-greater level of alignment becoming fluid and available. The dynamic relationship of parent to child facilitates the rapid development and unfolding of this metamorphosis.

This Awareness wishes to call attention to those experiences or observations within nature, of an animal that adopts a very young offspring that is of a different species. There is an imprinting that occurs. This imprinting is indeed the establishment of the reciprocal movement of energy between heart spaces that is aligned with the Universal Laws pertaining to the parent/child relationship, and the subsequent opportunity for sympathetic and empathic metamorphosis.

This Awareness wishes to acknowledge the questioner and offer gratitude for the alignment of energy this soul provides for facilitating the movement of energies necessary for these alignments to continue. This is now complete.

A CURE-ALL PRODUCT CALLED MMS DOES IT WORK?

QUESTIONER:

Thank you Awareness.

A question from LD from Pine Ridge, Arkansas: “I’ve received an email from a man named Kasper who is promoting a short video titled Quantum Leap (http://www.QuantumLeap.is/watchmovie) which promotes a cure-all product called MMS, which is essentially Chlorine dioxide. It’s supposed to kill bacteria and viruses responsible for a long list of ailments. This reminded me of the past promotion (by Awareness) of food grade hydrogen peroxide. This also killed pathogens through the interaction with oxygen.

Does Awareness see Chlorine Dioxide or MMS as being beneficial to the membership, and to what extent? Also, how would it compare to food grade hydrogen peroxide in terms of benefit and potential dangers?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness observes the molecular structure provided by this individual’s product is smaller than that which would be found in food grade hydrogen peroxide. This Awareness indicates it is for this reason that it is more capable of interacting and presenting oxygen to those pathogens that are being targeted. This Awareness also indicates these pathogens that are being targeted will more easily be targeted if charged by the individual consuming them, if the individual charges the particles with that focused intent.

This Awareness wishes to acknowledge the power that exists and is available to each and every individual to access the dynamic relationships within all things, within all energy, so that the transmission of knowledge and information can therefore be provided to even the smallest of atoms or molecular structures. One can avail themselves of these relationships and in part request and receive answers. This is complete.
QUESTIONER:
To clarify Awareness, you are saying that both MMS and food grade hydrogen peroxide are beneficial in killing pathogens, but you are also saying that a soul, a human, a person, has within them the capacity to kill the pathogens themselves by targeting them. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
Indeed. One can also utilize the consumption of these products to target; if one wishes to possess a carrier for one’s intention, one can utilize these substances as carriers, as hosts with the intention of eliminating specific pathogens.

This Awareness wishes to indicate this is similar to what the Controllers are doing with the Zika virus. This Awareness wishes to suggest that each and every human being or incarnate soul is capable of utilizing their awareness, their cognitive heart abilities in an equally powerful way and can claim that domain at any time. This is complete.

MORE ON INFLUENCING VARIOUS TIMELINES

QUESTIONER:
Thank you Awareness. We just need to believe and to know that we can do this! The next question is from PR, in Reading, Pennsylvania. “I understand timelines can and do happen at the same time (as we understand time) but I was wondering if they affect each other? In other words, if some event happens in one timeline or in one strand, could that possibly affect a timeline in a different strand positively or negatively, or are the timelines/strands completely separate from each other?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness wishes to present an analogy in response to this question. This Awareness suggests that if one places a finger upon the blood vessel at one’s ankle and can perceive the heartbeat through that vessel, then one places a finger upon the neck and one can also feel the heartbeat. This Awareness suggests that in most individuals they are out of synch.

This Awareness suggests that as one maintains connection with both points, a synchronizing of these heartbeats will occur. This is in alignment with the Universal Laws. As such, if one is to call attention to the pulse of one’s timeline, or likewise simultaneously bring attention to the pulse of an alternative timeline, or many timelines, depending on one’s abilities, one can cause them to all become synchronized to the life force that flows through them as a result of one’s soul.

The impact of such alignment is more complicated to explain. Each vessel within the body that is pumping blood at a specific rate of speed with a specific intention in place is doing so to facilitate the movement of the fluid within it, the cells within it. If one is out of alignment and seeking to realign, one’s higher intelligence can call upon that vessel or that alternative timeline that is operating at its highest function and call attention simultaneously to both timelines, causing the lower frequency to adapt and shift and change and synchronize with that which is pulsating at a higher frequency.

It is to be understood that the soul does not contemplate positive or negative. It is seeking experience, and as it seeks the experience, both spectrums offer nourishment for the soul. This is to suggest that if one seeks to align all alternative timelines with one specific frequency, one must also engage one’s heart and soul with Universal Law so that if one line is best served by falling out of sequence or synchronicity with the other lines, then this is allowed to transpire.

This Awareness suggests in other words to allow the highest good to transpire for all alternative timelines, taking into account that the soul or consciousness observing currently is indeed also in an alternate timeline within the concept of the other lines of experience. Does this answer the question?

QUESTIONER:

It does. So altering depends mainly on the attention paid or the focus, and by focusing on all and giving it your highest and best, you are altering, and increasing the vibrations of all of them. Is that right?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
There is a synchronizing of all lines, yes, this is correct. This Awareness cautions that it may not be in the highest for all timelines to be synchronized, thus to allow Universal Law to dictate which lines are synchronized.

THE SOURCE FOR “A COURSE IN MIRACLES”

QUESTIONER:

That makes sense. It is a very heavy and complicated subject, and there may be more questions later. Our next question tonight is from M.O.B. There is a comment first. “The most recent Cosmic Tarot lesson - Key number 21- was so illuminating and helpful to me. In connection with this I have for some time been a little troubled by 'A Course In Miracles' (ACIM). I belong to a tiny study group and I do so want to believe this is indeed from Jesus but what I find hard to accept, as the text and workbook make so clear, is that the universe that appears is the projection of the ego.

The whole vast cosmos is not the creation of the Father but is made by ego to maintain the 'I', the separate me. Now if I understand Awareness correctly I think It stated that the universe is indeed but the screen of consciousness and that does agree with the ACIM but I think Awareness suggests that there is a grand purpose of the Father in this. The experience of being an individual is necessary. ACIM is clear that the individual is but the ego and does not exist just as the perceptual universe does not exist. It is but a mistake, a 'foolish mad idea'. For me I see beauty and love in this creation far greater than that of which this ego of mine is capable. I would be so grateful for any clarification on this.”
This Awareness suggests that the founder and creator of ‘A Course in Miracles’ was indeed in communication with the soul known as Jesus. The instructions provided, as observed by this Awareness, were to create a dialogue, a framework for a dialogue to transpire between Jesus and the individual, yet the creator’s ego continually interrupted. This soul interpreted this interruption by the ego as evidence of its mistake—that it should no longer exist as it existed and created interference with her ability to know the truth as was available through the interaction with Jesus.

This Awareness suggests that if one seeks to understand, that one develop a relationship with that soul, one can engage in relationship with the soul that created ‘A Course of Miracles’. One can also engage in relationship with the soul that is Jesus. Both are available for discourse. This Awareness wishes to acknowledge the courage necessary to question is very admirable. It is the indication of discipleship and with alignment of one’s heart with the truth.

The Purpose of All Religious Texts
This Awareness encourages and suggests that at each and every turn within one’s experience of reviewing the works of those that are speaking to Divinity, to maintain these sensitivities to what is truth and what is in alignment with Divine Truth, with Universal and natural laws.

These texts that are presented and carried about for years upon years are imbued with specific frequencies (like The Autobiography of a Yogi, like the Bible) that allow them to become catchments for Divine Energy. They become magnifiers, and as they magnify, those areas within the text that are out of alignment with truth also become magnified.

This is to say that as one reviews such texts, that if something arises, a statement arises that no longer resonates as truth within oneself, to acknowledge it, to acknowledge the question of it, and to turn to one’s heart, one’s ability to discern truth and alignment with Universal Law and to ask that question of one’s own heart, seeking out through one’s heart a connection to that which is known as Awareness, to that which is known as Jesus, to that which is known as Paramahansa Yogananda, and to ask, “Is this truth? I call upon All That Is, I call upon Universal Law to reveal to me the Absolute Truth and I will be a receiver for this Truth” and truly opening oneself to receiving this truth.

This Awareness indicates this is truly the responsibility of each and every soul that accepts the opportunity of using these texts such as ‘A Course in Miracles’, or the Bible, or the Koran, or the Talmud as a stepping-stone in their spiritual evolution, for that is all these texts represent.

They are stepping stones, catchments designed to hold energy, to sustain a specific frequency, much like the mantras used: “Om Namah Shivaya”—they are catchments to allow one to open to one’s own unique sound so that each soul becomes conscious that they themselves are the catchment for Divine Principles, for indeed, each soul is the reflection for All That Is, and All That Has Ever Been and All That Will Ever Be, and the tapestry that vibrates and emanates from that experience is not ego, but perceived truth, and perception has the ability to become off-key and to reflect an un-truth, or that which has deviated from Universal Law.

This does not indicate it is wrong or bad; it is simply out of alignment. This is somewhat oversimplified, and done so to present a point. The nature of religious texts is to create an opening, a catchment of Universal or Divine Frequency, so that those who view it and integrate it into their systems are able to expand beyond it, and in that expansion, those that have recorded such scriptures or words cannot help but imbend an element of their own ego within it.

It is the reader’s responsibility to discern and decipher and interpret and give thanks for the opportunity to do so, for it is in doing such interpretation and discernment that one has graduated to a place of no longer needing those scriptures for alignment, but can now find this within their own selves and develop from that point, direct communication with that which is Divine, with the intention of increasing one’s alignment and one’s ability to maintain a heightened state of alignment for ever-increasing periods of time. This is complete.
RESONATING WITH ‘THE LAW OF FORGIVENESS’

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness calls forth at this time those energies that resonate within the Law of Forgiveness; that these energies be allowed to ripple forth through the hearts of the Interpreter, the Energizer, the staff of CAC; out through those lines of attachment and connection to all those within the membership, to reverberate and resonate within their children, their parents, their animals, and all that which they love, so that as each loving thought crosses one’s path, this Law of Forgiveness becomes actuated and empowered, increasing in its intensity with each passing thought and intention of love.

GETTING HISTORY STRAIGHT.... THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE WAS A FORGERY!

QUESTIONER:
The Spotlight recently ran an interesting little item. I'd like to read it to Awareness and ask if it would comment.

"Is the Declaration of Independence a forgery? Maurice Freedman, a professional document examiner thinks it is. Freedman says, 'If you turn the John Hancock signature upside down, you can see the J resembles a writing quill. Hancock didn't make his J's that way, but I've seen evidence that sometimes Mr. Franklin did.' Freedman also points out, among the more obvious signs of forgery, that the names on the Declaration are often grouped in alliterative sequences —Hooper next to Hancock, Penn to Peat, Hall to Hewes and so forth. The clumsiest forgery is the signature of John Witherspoon.

Freedman speculates the members of the Continental Congress worried that if they actually signed the Declaration of Independence, and if it were to fall into British hands, they could very well be executed for sedition. They hedged their bets by having their signatures forged by Benjamin Franklin, but Franklin himself was a signer, presumably the only genuine signature. Does that make him one of our bravest founding fathers?"

Would Awareness please comment on that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This Awareness indicates that this appears to be in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that it appears there was a general consensus among these entities that this would be a way whereby they could give their name to the document, while still retaining a way out, if necessary. This Awareness indicates however, it does not appear that only Franklin signed the document. This Awareness indicates that it appears there were several entities associated and contributing to this. This Awareness indicates this as relatively insignificant in terms of the effects of the document, though for historical purposes, it may be of great significance to entities. This Awareness indicates that it appears some of the signers signed each other's names, rather than their own.

MORE ON THE HISTORY OF THE CAC MEMBERSHIP

QUESTIONER:
Thank you Awareness. This next question is from TMR, in Vandalia, Ohio. He writes, “I am a long time CAC member and I would like to propose a Newsletter question. It's about the true ancient history of CAC members and what role they may have played as a group in other times on the earth. When did the Wanderers first gather together in ancient history on earth and where did they come from? Does this reach back into the times of Atlantis or Lemuria, or even before? It would be enlightening to hear the viewpoint of Cosmic Awareness on this. Can Awareness comment? Thanks so much!”

COSMIC AWARENESS:
The Wanderers are composed of many different soul types. This Awareness wishes to use an analogy to simplify. Upon the earth there exists thousands upon thousands of gemstones and crystals. They are unique in their composition, as they are made of specific processes upon the mantle’s compression and decompression, heating and cooling, chemical and mineral interactions, yet they are a family.

The Wanderers are such a family. They are attracted to each other by the resonance of their willingness to assist in clarifying and healing and like the gemstone and crystal family, each possesses a unique trait and properties for that purpose. Within every experience of humanity, the All That Is calls forth the Wanderers, those that assign to themselves a willingness to receive and to become aligned with the interactions and the processes necessary to create structures that allow them to possess the properties and traits of a Wanderer, for the sole/soul purpose of healing and creating guidance.

QUESTIONER:
Does this reach back into the times of Atlantis, Lemuria or even before?

COSMIC AWARENESS:
This spans the universes and it is not specific to the earth. It is not specific to a civilization. This is a truth that extends throughout the fabric of time and space and through all realities in which entities seek to experience themselves as separate from All That Is.

AWARENESS
This community of people, of souls that have the characteristics of wanting to heal and help; is there more of a convergence on the planet earth right now because of this need of the earth?

This Awareness acknowledges this is accurate. The earth has called upon those souls that would assist her and assist humanity. She has sent forth a great calling and many souls have arrived, from many places in the universes to assist in this transformation.

I used to call people that I would recognize instantly as a Light Being, shining. I think that is the aura of people. Is there anything else that Awareness could say about the group of CAC members and why people are drawn to this group and other groups that are also available?

This Awareness wishes to bring attention to a point of discernment. This Awareness would call attention to any organization wherein there is an experience or presence of fortune, fame or celebrity, as these are aligned with the dark energies that seek to siphon away Life Force Energy of each participant. Organizations such as CAC have consistently maintained a minimal profile, yet their membership spans the globe.

This Awareness acknowledges that the organization of CAC is one that has sought to maintain alignment with Universal and natural law, to remain a clear lens through which truth can move without becoming entrapped in the readily available snares of popularity. As such, the membership of CAC is unique. This Awareness acknowledges the experience of membership will increase within this organization as the year progresses, as an unfolding of material comes forward as requested by the membership.

These souls that are called to participate—for in the deepest reality, that is the nature of this organization—it is one of personal participation and is not simply a passive receptive state. The framework that has been established and maintained by the founder, Avaton, mandates in accordance with Universal Laws, as charged by his soul, that each soul that participates as a member also contributes by choice, their energy, to a collective pool that is calling forth deeper truths.

This organization has the ability to become prosperous and facilitate the movement of heaven and earth, if it is the choosing, if it is the choice called forth by its members. This Awareness is attempting to communicate that each and every member is a participant in a conscious and very real sense of what is brought forth, and each carries a conscious responsibility to participate in what is called forward, and upon calling it forward, receive this information, these exercises with the known intention that it is to uplift the entire planet, through uplifting and aligning oneself to the Universal and natural laws.

In this process of fulfilling Universal Law through the imbibement of the energies of his soul, Avaton and now Vikki T., have consecrated a wellspring of Divine Light upon the planet that is reflected, energized and maintained by each member. This Awareness would suggest taking in this reality and the truth of this reality, for it is the foundation for the next step in the evolution of humanity.

This Awareness acknowledges that those that are currently members of CAC and have been for a great length of time—these individuals are representatives of spiritual anchors upon the planet. These are individuals that have sought to reveal the true nature of the soul and its purpose upon the planet, to renew the opportunity to know Universal Law and natural law and to abide by these laws. Does this answer this question?

Q: THERE ARE MANY ALIENS WALKING AMONG US!

My question is: You have previously spoken about the Archons and their pursuits and you have said that their days are over from the control of humanity. Is David correct in his assumption, and will you speak on the hybrids and their ability to mentally control humanoids, and how can we identify them and guard and protect ourselves from their manipulations and molestations?

A: Yes. This next question is from KG, Philadelphia, PA. He says, “I would be honored and grateful if you would answer this question for me. One morning I was listening to a radio program called Coast To Coast AM, and they had a guy on named David M. Jacobs PhD. And he was speaking about alien abductions, and he wrote a book called ‘Walking Among Us: The Alien Plan to Control Humanity’. My question is: You have previously spoken about the Archons and their pursuits and you have said that their days are over from the control of humanity. Is David correct in his assumption, and will you speak on the hybrids and their ability to mentally control humanoids, and how can we identify them and guard and protect ourselves from their manipulations and molestations?

Are we at the CAC membership protected? Please elaborate to the fullest extent. Thank you, with love and gratitude.”

This Awareness acknowledges there are many races walking upon the planet, appearing in humanoid form. Some walk among humanity and cannot be seen. They walk slightly veiled. There is a great plethora of life upon this planet that is unseen and unacknowledged. Likewise, the understanding that this planet is of a farm nature is still in existence and a reality.

The efforts of the Light Workers are succeeding. The transition out of a police and entertained reality is a progression as opposed to a sudden and a stark shift in reality. The process of healing comes from within, so while indeed, the farming of humanity continues, the mutilations and manipulations and confiscation of human forms, the sacrificing of children, the brutality expressed against humanity and all of life on the planet is continuing.

Likewise, the awakening of the planet continues, side by side. This Awareness would encourage and strongly advise creating a place within one’s heart to witness this transition openly, and to willingly understand this progression is side by side; bringing one’s desire, one’s focused intention to generate balance within oneself, to claim one’s domain, to create a deeper alignment.
It does not force change. It does not force the will of the Light Worker upon the efforts of the Controllers and their minions. It instead invokes the Universal Laws, which will trump their efforts.

Thus, if one can train oneself—and the use of this word ‘train’ is specific—if the individual, the soul, can train itself, its consciousness to hold both realities side by side and maintain one’s heart and strength and connection to one’s soul, to the earth, and to the Universal Life Force which is All That Is, and clean oneself using the alchemical process defined in this reading, the alchemical process of grace is activated and the upliftment of one’s soul into a state of alignment and power will occur, thus establishing that the entrapment, the entertainment presented by the Controllers and their words, laden with control and hypnotic abilities, become null and void.

In this process, through the application of Universal and natural law one reclaims one’s domain, and therefore cannot be reached or touched unless one chooses and allows oneself to be touched by the dark energies and the Controllers. The application of this Universal Law transcends this planet and applies throughout all of time and space and beyond. Through all levels of reality, Universal Law applies.

The claiming of one’s domain is an issuance; it is a statement of absolute truth. It is irrevocable and it calls forth from within the individual that claims this reality of truth, a very deep sense an obligation of responsibility. For as one claims this state of reality, one becomes the creator of one’s reality, and as such holds the exponential power to influence and affect all of life.

THEY HAVE CONVINCED HUMANITY OF FALSE TRUTHS

QUESTIONER:

Thank you Awareness. So if we do that, there is no reason to fear. We have one last question. This is from MH, Raymond, WA. “We are light and sound energy beings having an experience on planet earth. Regarding our blood being used in transfusions, how does that impact the givers and the receivers, other than the fact that it is not a relationship. Does this answer the question?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to reiterate. The human is fully capable of regenerating itself. If one chooses to do so, it requires the acknowledgment of the dynamic relationships with all aspects of the self. This is not a psychological reference.

This is in reference to the very subatomic particles that uphold one’s experience of dense reality, for one’s soul is in relationship, a living breathing sentient relationship with all of its subatomic particles, with all of its cells, with the spirit of one’s organs, with the spirit of one’s cells, and if the body enters into a state of dis-ease, it is like one’s child that has been upset for a great length of time and has been unheard, and falls into a state of depression, of sadness, and their body reflects this as it become ill.

It becomes dis-eased, out of alignment, unable to communicate with Source, unable to communicate its needs. It needs attention. It needs that dynamic relationship. Does this answer the question?

Somewhat. So we are able, as a body, in our highest being self, to heal our self? However, that’s not really the way it is expected or done in our life now. There are many people that give blood so that it will be used to help others. Does that somehow impact the givers and the receivers, other than the fact that it is not necessary and that it is also being done as a sacrifice from the Controllers’ viewpoint?

I guess I’m asking, that since there are a lot of people doing this now, is there something that happens because of that? Is this something that we shouldn’t do anymore?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The act of sacrificing oneself for the sake of allopathic medicine, for the sake of a structure of thinking that rewards the sacrificing of one’s blood or organs for Life Force Energy creates an entrapment of one’s Life Force Energy into the accepted receptacle of suffering presented by the Controllers. One is aligning oneself with the energies and efforts of dark energy when one willingly sacrifices oneself to the institution created, funded, manipulated and governed by the dark energy entities. In other words, the harsh reality is that it has become commonplace to sacrifice oneself. It has been made to appear healthy and positive and in alignment with the greater good to become someone that assists the dark energies and entities and Controllers and their minions in spreading self-harm.

This Awareness suggests it is possible to reclaim one’s energy from all that one has deposited into that receptacle and allowing those substances that one has donated to return to Source, to return to All That Is, in a state of love. This can be done using the exercise of Ho’oponopono.

QUESTIONER:

But what of the lives that are saved, the untold lives that are saved from the donated blood? Is that not a good thing?
This Awareness suggests an analogy. Consider the souls of a colony of ants whose Divine Purpose is to create a colony upon the earth that serves the earth. It creates an experience of ecstatic joy within the souls that participate in this creation of a colony and the home that they create. The home that they create serves the earth and it serves multitudes of layers of existence through their work, through their effort, through their combined resources.

Then an individual comes and decides that it is going to claim the ownership of this colony. It is going to claim ownership over its resources and its offerings to humanity and to the earth, and it collects this colony and it places it in a box. It defines this box as home. It defines for this colony what its purpose will be. It informs this colony that its experience of fulfillment will be limited by these 6 walls, for this enclosure has a top and a bottom, and this creates a lens through which the soul’s energy must permeate first before it can reach the body.

It creates a lens through which the earth’s energy must permeate before it can reach the body. Thus the Life Force is siphoned off. Yet the ant does not understand it has been captured. It does not understand that it exists within a trap. It seeks only to align with Source, with its Divine Purpose to achieve its goal. It is driven. It must succeed. So the colony begins again to create life, to serve the earth, to serve its souls by achieving their purpose, yet somehow their work is never enough, because the earth does not receive it and their souls do not receive their full due course, because it has been prevented by the individual that has decided to capture the colony.

This is the medical industry. This is the nature of a farmed colony, and such is the state of humanity at this time. So indeed, lives have been saved, but they have been limited. The scope of their ability has been siphoned away. Imagine if this did not exist. Imagine if that individual was able to heal their own lungs, heal their own blood, heal their own kidneys and create an abundance of Life Energy within their body.

Their soul would soar. Their potential would be limitless. Their ability to heal others would be unlimited and not bound by the confines of the entrapment. Does this help you to understand?

Absolutely. The last question here was, “How does an Anunnaki screen this factor when doing their DNA-typing classification research?” I’m assuming this is once people have been mixing blood through transfusions and mixing organs through organ transplants.

These souls become hybridized and it unravels the nature of the soul, creating a permanent mark upon the soul’s energy where an aspect is simply missing. It generates an unraveling of the soul, and a fracturing of the soul will result, making this soul vulnerable to dark force energies that would like to ascertain a host body upon the planet. When this understanding is achieved, these aspects can be reclaimed.

Does Awareness have a closing message?

This Awareness at this time wishes to leave simply with the offering of healing energy for all that perceive and witness and hear this reading, as it contains information that has been held secret for thousands of years upon this planet. The bringing forth of this information will unlock many doors upon the planet and within humanity, and will provide the opportunity for fully utilizing the wave of information and energy that is cresting upon the planet.

This Awareness suggests taking the opportunity to contemplate the dynamic relationships that one has with every particle of light that makes up one’s being, to acknowledge that it desires your acknowledgment and love and gratitude for its effort to support you in this incarnation, in this body, in this time, and upon this planet.

ON PETER OLSON’S COMPLEX WORK: ’MANY OF ONE’

He has presented many levels that will assist and help in the understanding of the soul and its very complex nature, but this Awareness would also say that this is but the tip of the iceberg. Even with its complexity, it is but a scratching on the surface of the true complexity and wholeness of the soul and its many, many levels of expression and focus. There is much to be derived from these writings, but they must also be taken in with a grain of salt, so that one does not simply hold that this is the whole truth of the matter and that it explains everything and all, for it does not.

It provides intriguing concepts and reference points in realizing how complex the soul is, but one can also become trapped in this intellectualization of this matter, and while one may feel slightly superior in having this more advanced understanding of the complexity of the soul, it is not the final and total understanding. This Awareness would go so far as to say that most can never achieve this in the physical life, for it is too complex to be understood by a limited physical mind.
Druck. "Today’s woman is telling her man to open up, messages, said San Diego couples therapist Ken Texas. "But a lot of women don’t know how to accept looking for sensitivity," said Patton, 29, of Dallas, strong but caring. "Women say they are forever traditional male who makes you angry sometimes!"

"Women basically just don’t know what they want!" said Williams, 44 of Augusta, Maine. Is this new male really in favor? Do women know what to do with him when he arrives? As men search to balance machismo and sensitivity, women and men seem confused by just how touchy-feely the 1990’s man should be.

Janet Fulton votes for super sensitivity. Her husband Roger is the all-time sensitive male; “Roger has always been very upfront with his feelings. He will cry with me. And I think it’s wonderful!” said Fulton, 49, Tucson, Arizona, who has known Roger for 30 years.

Virginia Gavín does not hesitate to use the “w” words: wimp, weak, wishy-washy. She is married to a combination sensitive/macho guy but has been involved in the past with “sensitive guys who became too tiring. They can be clinging, boring and confining,” said Gavín, 27, of Beltsville, Md. “I like sensitivity, but you want that balance with the traditional male who makes you angry sometimes!”

Carlton Stuart Patton said he was brought up to be strong but caring. “Women say they are forever looking for sensitivity,” said Patton, 29, of Dallas, Texas. “But a lot of women don’t know how to accept it!” Confused women are giving men double messages, said San Diego couples therapist Ken Druck. “Today’s woman is telling her man to open up, and when he does, she does not know how to react!” he said.

A woman’s father may have been aloof and traditional, leaving her with few other role models, said Druck, author of The Secrets Men Keep. “When the sensitive male shows his uncertainties, his insecurities, his fears, she does not like what she sees,” Druck said. Sometimes she will call him a wimp. The word has become a caricature to describe the indecisive, ambivalent male, the man who walks on egg shells and really is afraid to say how he feels,” he said.

“This is a man who has overreacted to changing times, to taking cues from what women want. He may give up his own power to a woman, thinking that is what she wants,” Druck said, “but a woman will lose interest very quickly.”

Women do find new males boring, Don Williams said, but for other reasons. “For a woman who was raised around self-centered ‘old male’ types, life was never boring. There was always conflict,” he said. Women’s penchant for ‘old male’ types he said, “really came home when I found out my ex-wife was going to marry a guy who likes fast cars, motorcycles, guns and who smokes.”

LIVING TOGETHER IN PEACE

So What Do Women Want Anyway?

QUESSTIONER: I’d like to read this article I found and ask Awareness to comment. It is called: “So What Do Women Want Anyway?” and is written by Karen Peterson.

“Women say they want sensitive men, but they’re not always happy when they get what they ask for, some men and therapists say. The New Male! Isn’t he just what every woman wanted: a caring sensitive guy in touch with his feelings? Not the man who merely picked up a dishtowel, but the guy who brought a woman his innermost core!

Don Williams tried to be that new male, and he said it didn’t work. Now divorced, Williams said, “Women who declared in the Seventies and Eighties that they wanted new males like us, are now in the 1990’s turning around divorcing us.”

“Women basically just don’t know what they want!” said Williams, 44 of Augusta, Maine. Is this new male really in favor? Do women know what to do with him when he arrives? That was the end of the article. Would Awareness comment on this? Is this information valid, or a trend, or have they just interviewed a minority?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This information appears to be accurate in so far as it goes. There is a request by women for men to reveal themselves fully because women are always seeking to get to the heart of “what makes Tommy tick.” They seek to understand the man to the point where they can control the entity. The mystery is gone and they find little left to keep their interest. He becomes boring to them. It becomes like having a doll or a dog or some pet that can be manipulated according to their wishes and there is no challenge left.

This Awareness indicates that women tend to like a challenge, and to find the man who challenges their strengths in a way that is not too far beyond their ability, but always just out of reach. A man who is too available and too open also becomes too boring after awhile. This is partly because women like to think that their man has some special mystical quality that allows him to have a greater strength and protectiveness. They are by nature generally weaker, or see themselves as weaker in the sense of physical strength, and they seek security.

This is in a general sense and not to be applied in every case, but as a general rule, women look to men for protection and provision, and they want their men to be able to provide protection for their security. They want them to do it willingly and from a caring point of view. The men, in looking at women, want the comfort that they provide, and women have a nurturing quality as a general rule, which is attractive to the man, who seeks comfort in the woman.

For most men in America, there is a need to go to the woman for comfort to a greater degree than is found in some of the other cultures. Men seldom go to each other for comfort. Women tend to go to each other for comfort and sometimes will go to the man for comfort, if the man is receptive to that need. It is in this area that the man can be sensitive to the woman’s needs, when she approaches him for comfort, when she approaches him in need of his concern for her.
If she approaches him and asks him or expects him to listen to her complaints and the man is disinterested it is a real rebuff to her. This Awareness indicates this is the area in which women like the sensitivity of the man to come through. They do not particularly like the man to be sensitive in regard to his own needs and to express himself in the sense of needing her to take care of him, or to pamper him or wherein he expresses self-sympathy. This is a real turn-off to most women.

Men Misunderstand the Concept of Sensitivity Women Seek

This Awareness indicates that men may misunderstand the concept of sensitivity that women seek. They seek the man who is sensitive to their needs but who himself, seems not to have any needs. The woman tends to project upon such a man the feeling that “He needs me!” but if the man actually shows the woman how much he needs her psychologically, it can give her the feeling of being incapable of providing for him and give her the feeling that he is a heavy responsibility that she just cannot carry. If he actually needs her love too greatly, she becomes frightened by his dependency, or what she perceives as his dependency.

Therefore, the man needs to let her project from her own mind her belief that he needs her and this can be done by his own normal expression and behavior and the mistakes he makes which she finds herself able to correct. The woman who can say, “‘Comb your hair! It’s a mess!’ feels herself to be needed. The woman who can say, “You shouldn’t have talked to that person the way you did!” feels herself to be needed. The woman who can find fault with the man and issue corrections feels herself to be needed. If the man accepts or doesn’t accept her admonition, she still feels needed. This Awareness indicates if the man fits everything she wants him to be, she does not feel needed.

This Awareness indicates that if a man feels that he needs to please the woman at all costs, this may be that which begins the total breakdown of the relationship. The man should have some idea of his own individuality and what he wants out of life. The woman will have her own idea of her individuality, or at least should have, and what she wants out of life. She often turns to the man and asks him for his help in providing her with her needs, in fulfilling her dreams, and he is responsible to listen.

He is not necessarily required or responsible for providing her with everything she wants, particularly if she can do something to help get her own needs fulfilled without his giving up his ambitions to do so. There may be conflict in such a relationship, wherein the man says, “That is your dream, and I’ll help you try to fulfill your dream if you are willing to work for it. My dream is to do this, and I cannot give up my dream totally to work on yours unless you want to reciprocate and help to fulfill my dream also.”

This Awareness indicates that too often each entity in a relationship wants to go in a different direction and the question may be, “Are you going to lead or am I going to lead?” This Awareness indicates that many macho types would say the male should lead the family, the male should lead the direction, and many feminists will say, “I’m tired of following men who do not know what they are doing, who take off to do something and fail, and I’m going to pursue my own interests and my own direction!”

These entities need to give each other the space to pursue their own goals and find some way to help support each other in those pursuits. This Awareness indicates of course, if one entity wants to live in Hawaii and the other wants to live in Alaska, and each is determined, the marriage is likely to result in separation at least in terms of the separation of living quarters. There could be ways of working out living arrangements wherein they both live in Alaska a portion of the year and in Hawaii for another portion.

There are ways to compromise or provide each other their dreams if there is a willingness to do so.

This Awareness indicates that the tendency of entities to cater to one another in a relationship generally occurs only in courtship, and once the marriage is completed, the catering tends to end and the tug-of-war begins.

The tug-of-war may last for some time. Eventually the entities may feel themselves torn from so much tugging, tired of the squabble and fight and willing to let the other person be independent and go his or her own way, while still keeping the marriage intact. It becomes a kind of arrangement of two people living in the same quarters yet passing each other during the day or night as if they were two strangers.

This may go on for quite some time, while the entities let go of their control of each other. After this has lasted for a certain duration, the entities begin to look at each other again, and become curious. “How is it going for you?” and when they begin sharing what is happening in their own lives with each other, it can spark a new experience, a new romance, a new interest in the other and at some point there may even be a kind of willingness that each can give to the other, a willingness to assist in those areas that are difficult for the other.

For example, one entity might be able to assist the other in some of the bookwork required. The other might be able to assist in some of the studies that the other is engaged in. As these entities begin to assist each other in their pursuit of their own individual goals, they both become interested again in the work and the individuality of each other. As this develops, a new spark of life in the relationship begins to grow and the commonality of the different pursuits that each shares with the other gives new life to the relationship and a more healthy marriage or relationship begins to evolve.
This Awareness indicates that the hazards that threaten a close relationship often have to do with values that entities have in terms of their own personal values which the mate does not share, and the entity who holds a particular value and who cannot impose it on the mate may tend to feel as though he or she cannot live with that mate unless that mate embraces these values. This can be one of the more difficult areas of relationships; yet, if entities can endure long enough, they may eventually quit trying to impose their values on the other and let the other be. They may even become curious as to why the other did not accept the value and start a dialogue.

When Jealousy Threatens a Relationship

This Awareness indicates that the dialogue may eventually bring about an understanding or respect between the entities wherein they respect each other’s values without condemning them and without demanding change. There are also other areas that can threaten a relationship. When an entity, for example, develops friendships from outside the relationship, the other partner might become jealous or hostile toward the particular friends and object to the fact that their mate spends so much time with the friends and not enough time with them. It becomes a kind of jealousy or the entity may feel threatened by the friend that the mate has developed a friendship with.

This Awareness indicates this can also result in situations that threaten the relationship greatly, especially if the one perceives the friendship as perhaps leading to economic or emotional threats. For example, if one spends too much time with his friends and the entity begins to feel deserted or ignored for too long, the entity feeling deserted may become quite angry and bitter and look elsewhere for the affection and attention that is needed. This could lead to relations outside of the marriage that might tend to break it up. It could lead to one entity looking for another mate because the mate is not available to the entity.

This Awareness indicates that many times the male will go to women for comfort because his wife is not comforting to him, and vice versa. Often a woman will feel neglected and go to some charming man who makes her feel important, and thus the marriage can begin to unravel because of the extramarital relationships that develop out of such situations. As a general rule, most of these difficulties can be avoided if men will be sensitive to the needs of the woman in her need to communicate, and listen to what she has to say without feeling threatened, or without feeling that he needs to fix everything, or that he has to provide her with all she requests.

It is not necessary that the man feels a need to provide the woman with everything she desires, but the tendency is for men to believe that they are raised to be a provider, and it is their duty, and therefore, if the woman wishes to talk about a problem she has at work, the man tends to feel he is supposed to provide her with a solution.

Often the man becomes abrupt and disturbed by her request because he does not have the solution, and feels inadequate and unable to provide her with the solution and may become angry. The woman cannot understand why the man is angry when she was simply telling about a problem she had at work. She didn’t ask him to solve it, or fix it. She was simply telling him about it.

An Example of the Response a Woman Wants

This Awareness indicates that men tend to see these things as though they were requests for their help, but women tend to see these expressions as merely sharing their intimate activities in their lives with the person they are closest to. They do not particularly request an answer or a solution. They simply want to tell about it. They want attention, and they want to be told, “I don’t know what to do about that for you, but I’m sorry it happened and I hope you know that I am always with you and beside you, and I am your friend. I love you and I’ll stand by you in whatever you want to do.” This is the kind of response the woman wants when she comes to the man with a complaint.

Most men cannot respond in that way because they have been so trained to provide the answer to her problem. When the man approaches the woman with his troubles, he is not expecting her to provide him with an answer, and may even resent it if she tells him what to do. What he really wants from her is to have her arms wrapped around him and to have her say, “I love you. I care for you. I hope this helps you feel better!”

This Awareness indicates it is this kind of comforting that a child wants from a mother after he has been out Red Knighting and hurt his foot. This is the request the man has when he approaches his woman with a complaint about things that have gone wrong at the office or at the job site or whatever. He simply wants her to comfort him. He does not want her to provide him with a solution.

This Awareness indicates that occasionally the woman sees the solution as simply a matter of what to her is obvious: “Well, why don’t you just tell him to go take a leap at a flying donut!” or some other terminology that she might come up with, and the man sees that this will not help him on his job at all, and feels that she does not understand the situation and therefore, he cannot accept her answer, which he didn’t solicit in the first place, so he doesn’t take her advice and she feels upset and resentful because he never listens to her when she has the answer for everything he needs to know.

This Awareness indicates that this can lead the man into feeling that his wife thinks of him as some little boy who doesn’t have a mind of his own, and who can’t solve his own problems. Therefore, he goes away and says to himself, “I’m never going to her again with any complaint about anything that happens to me!” Thus, he clams up. She asks him, “How did things go today?” and he doesn’t answer.
This goes on for months and she finally feels frustrated, saying to herself, “He never talks to me! He never shares his feelings with me! Why doesn’t he share his feelings with me?” It is because when he tried to share his feelings, he was always shot down and made to feel as though he was stupid. Therefore, he does not care to put himself in a position of being belittled.

This Awareness indicates that these are the major problems that entities face in their relationships. Not only do the women treat the men in this way too often, but likewise, the men may treat the woman in a similar way. Rather than listening to her complaint and expressing affection for her, the man feels he is being imposed upon by her complaint over some issue that is so trivial and meaningless as to interrupt his reading or whatever, and he resents her speaking to him.

She’s telling him about the kids and what happened and he has such heavy and important thoughts on his mind and he just wants to relax. He didn’t come home to be badgered about what the children had done today! This Awareness indicates that his resentment is because he feels he is being asked to do something. If the entity could simply realize that he does not have to do anything, but it is only fair that he listen to her and let her tell him what her day was like, then she will feel much better.

This Awareness indicates these problems that entities have in their communication are the major problems that entities experience in close relationships between male and female counterparts. If the male can simply listen to the female expression where she tells what happened or what is going on with someone or with her, and he simply responds, “Really! Is that right?” and so forth, without ever really telling her, “Well, you should do this, or you should do that!” If he can respond without trying to give advice, she will generally be much happier. If she asks for advice, then indeed, you must feel free to give advice, but if she is not asking for advice, overtly asking, do not assume that she is, and do not offer advice when it has not been asked for.

The same should be said for women. If the man complains to her about someone’s behavior at work or whatever, he is not necessarily asking her, “What should I do?” Although she may be tempted to say, “Well, you should go to your superior and have him settle this once and for all! Why don’t you talk to your boss about this?” This Awareness indicates this makes him feel as though he is rather stupid in her eyes, and he came home wanting to be comforted and instead was made to feel stupid in her eyes, and thus he is insulted. His ego is fractured.

This Awareness indicates that these seem trivial when looked at from a third party view, but when entities are participants of the events, they become major because it affects their individual self-image or threatens the solidity of the relationship, and thus becomes a major problem for the entities involved.

This Awareness indicates that these problems that entities face in their relationships at times when they are already wound up tight and about to explode. Even the mother might become irritable over the so-called dumping, done at the time when the father is irritable himself, or settle all the disputes and do the spanking and so on immediately, as the wife would like, or should it be done some other way?

This Awareness indicates these problems that entities face in their relationships. Not only do the women treat the men in this way too often, but likewise, the men may treat the woman in a similar way. Rather than listening to her complaint and expressing affection for her, the man feels he is being imposed upon by her complaint over some issue that is so trivial and meaningless as to interrupt his reading or whatever, and he resents her speaking to him.

When Uptight: Take 3 Deep Breaths

This Awareness indicates that entities feel when they are confronted with disturbances should be released before they respond to those disturbances, if it is possible.

This Awareness suggests that nothing should be done at the time when the father is irritable himself, or might become irritable over the so-called dumping, because the father will then take out his own frustrations on the children rather than treating the incident objectively. This Awareness suggests that the father in such a case should simply say, “Let’s talk about it after dinner.” This gives time for things to be settled in a more calm way and it gives time for the entities to become unwound in terms of their own individual tensions.

This Awareness indicates that this type of thing should be recognized by the wife as being a problem and that she should use more tact and better timing, after perhaps she has given the husband a few strokes and made him feel more comfortable and so on, before laying or dumping all this stuff onto him. Is this really a problem or should the man accept this right away and settle all the disputes and do the spanking and so on immediately, as the wife would like, or should it be done some other way?

This Awareness suggests that if it is said in a sarcastic or angry response, matters could be made worse. It sometimes takes patience. Entities need to learn to take 3 deep breaths before responding to something when they are tense or uptight. The tension that entities feel when they are confronted with disturbances should be released before they respond to those disturbances, if it is possible.

This Awareness suggests that “Just wait ‘til your father gets home” syndrome, if she’s got a houseful of kids and the father, the minute he comes home exhausted and wants to sink into his chair and maybe watch the evening news or have a beer or something; the wife dumps upon him before he can even get situated, all the sins that the children have committed that day.

This Awareness indicates that it also allows the situation to settle into a more objective state. It is not appropriate for entities to start dealing with relationship problems at times when they are already wound up tight and about to explode. Even the mother would be more inclined to let things be put off until after dinner if she is told in a courteous way, “I am tired right now. Can we wait ‘til after dinner and discuss this?” If it is said in a way that is courteous, she will not become more frustrated but will respond with understanding.

This Awareness indicates that entities feel when they are confronted with disturbances should be released before they respond to those disturbances, if it is possible.

This Awareness suggests that you’ll be surprised how often when you feel like screaming or turning around and slapping someone, how much better it works out if you respond in a calm voice instead. Take a deep breath and relax, respond in a calm voice and deal with the situation or put it off until a later time, and you will find that the energies dissipate so that the issue can be discussed with much greater objectivity and meaning.
If you find yourself working up anger, it is amazing how, even though you may have a right to be angry, how much better things can work out if you simply reverse the emotion, and calmly deal with the situation. It has to begin within yourself. For example, a child throws a tantrum and is angry, and you cannot stand that children screaming that way and your initial impulse is to go over, grab the child and spank the child or dump water on the child, but you stop yourself and instead, you go over calmly, pick up the child and ask the child, “What’s the matter now? What’s happening? Why are you upset?”

The child then suddenly feels he has a friend and begins to explain what his problem is. It may have nothing to do with what the child thought the problem was. The child may say, “Mickey got my toy and won’t give it back to me, and when I tried to get it, mommy slapped me!” You might find that the child is justified in being upset, that the child’s tantrum was because mommy inflicted injustice and the child sensed it was unjust, and you might find it necessary to explain to the child certain aspects of the situation, “Well, maybe you should have let Mickey play with the toy a little while, and maybe we should go tell mommy what really happened!”

This Awareness indicates that when children become unruly, rather than allowing the first impulse of spanking the child to reign, this Awareness suggests that you pick up the child, or go and hold the child closely, wrapping your arms around the child and comforting the child. This tends to calm them down very quickly. This of course is assuming they are reasonable children experiencing a traumatic emotional situation. If they have deep-seated psychological problems they might bite you or something when you try to comfort them, or kick you in the shins, in which case you may find it important to keep your distance, and communicate verbally.

Spare The Rod, Avoid Implanting Mental Aberrations & Demons

This Awareness indicates it is best wherein possible to avoid physical violence with children, to avoid using the rod. In sparing the rod, the child has a greater chance of growing up without mental aberrations and unnecessary hostilities. Every time entities spank children, especially spanking them hard, instilling pain in them, on their body, they are implanting the seeds of demons.

These demons are aberrations that will later cause the child difficulties in psychological, or physical health. Many times physical health problems entities have as adults are nothing more than the result of some childhood beating that was inflicted on the entity or other childhood injury, either psychological or physical in nature.

This Awareness indicates it should be understood that a certain amount of unruliness in a child is to be expected. It is suggested that the unruliness be kept within limits of what you can manage, but not stifled to the point of preventing the child from having any sense of expression or any rights of expression. To force the child to fit within your personal will may constitute child abuse.

To allow the child a certain degree of rebelliousness within reasonable limits that are manageable for you gives the child a sense of individuality, even if it is not pleasant to endure and the child will gradually grow out of that unruly behavior and become more manageable so that with time and patience the child retains self-confidence, individuality, and yet remains within limits of manageability.

A four-year old child can become extremely disruptive. In fact, from the age of one up, the child can become extremely disruptive. They grow out of this. You do not have to force this child to become adult and civilized on your own. Time helps. Keep the behavior within reasonable limits. Deal with it in a way that is not abusive. Take the child out of the room or perhaps take the child in your lap so that you can keep the child from doing damage or whatever is necessary without abusing the child, and wait for the situation to change so that the child can then move into another environment and have more freedom to express him or herself without disrupting everything.

Observe the Diet of the Hyperactive Child

This Awareness indicates that you get through that day and the next day, and the next, and gradually, months pass, and the child also goes through stages, and may be hyperactive for a time and then becomes quite calm and pensive, or even shy for a time. You may wish to observe the diet of the child in reference to the child’s behavior, for sometimes the child’s hyperactivity results from something in the diet, either too much sugar, or perhaps red dye in candy or Jell-O or something, or some other food that causes the child to be hyperactive, and rather than punishing the child you may wish to take away the substances that cause the hyperactive child to misbehave.

The use of homeopathic Calms as being beneficial in helping to calm down the child that is overactive; these being made of herbs such as chamomile and hops. There is no side-effect if these are used in their recommended dosages. These can be found in most health food stores and have a taste that most children enjoy.

It is important to keep from beating the child, to keep from hurting the child, to keep from threatening the child as much as possible in order to raise a healthy child. There are some exceptions in which you may need to use some forms of punishment such as when the child inflicts damage or pain on another child. You may need to do something to let the child know your displeasure. You may take the child out of the room or isolate the child.

This Awareness indicates that isolation of one minute for every year old the child is, is that which is suggested as being appropriate, because the child’s attention span is represented in that amount of time. If you isolate the child too long, the child forgets why he is being isolated and it loses its importance. If the child is 5 years old, then 5 minutes is appropriate. If the child is quite intelligent at five, you might keep the child there for another minute or two.
If the child’s attention span is very short and the child is 5 years old, you may find that 4 minutes is long enough. Whatever length of attention span the child has is what best regulates the time for the isolation to be set. It would not be healthy for a one-year old or a two-year old to be isolated for a long period of time, such as 5 minutes. The child could become traumatized and fearful of abandonment and would lose the significance or meaning behind the isolation, but if you tell the two-year old, “I’m putting you in your room because you hit your baby sister and you have to stay in there for two minutes!” it not only helps the child to understand he cannot hit his baby sister, or he’ll end up in his room by himself, but it also helps the child to understand how long time is, how long two minutes are.

This Awareness indicates there are many ways of dealing with children. Some are abusive. They may make the parent feel better, but the action of raising children should be for the child’s sake, to develop a good wholesome person, rather than to make the parent feel good. Too often, parents use children to get their own frustrations out on, much like the old ‘Kick-Me’ dolls.

This Awareness indicates that if you wish to beat on something to get your frustrations out, you should simply buy some inanimate object such as a teddy bear and beat on that or beat on a punching bag, but not use your child as a punching bag. These children grow up eventually, but they never forget the way they were treated as children and who did what to them.

See Children as Reincarnated Adults in Little Bodies

This Awareness suggests that you can have a different perspective of children if you look at them as adults with little bodies, wherein the adults have been on the other side of life, and have forgotten much about this plane and have come back with clean slates, blank minds waiting to be filled with information. If you look at a child as a reincarnated adult in a child’s body, you will have a totally different attitude toward the child than if you see it as simply a little person, who is ignorant in comparison to yourself. You will have more respect for the reincarnated adult in a child’s body and that is the only way to realistically look at children.

Humans Need to Bond with One Another

This Awareness indicates there is, for the human species, a strong need for bonding. This is not necessarily a universal need with all species. For example, the Zeta Reticuli and the Reptoids do not experience this need, but humans have a great need to bond with one another. This is related to that which is called love, and wherein love exists between people it creates a bonding action, which may be associated with the concept of attachment.

This Awareness indicates that for humans, it is essential to have some kind of bonding with others to be psychologically healthy. One of the situations the aliens have discovered in their breeding with humans in the creation of half-breeds is that these children who are offspring of the human and reptilian species tend to require bonding in order to survive. There is a high mortality rate among these children if they do not have some kind of bonding with a human counterpart such as a parent.

Because of this there have been efforts by the aliens to bring adults in with the children to befriend them and to stay with them for certain amounts of time in order to keep them healthy and to give them a feeling of belonging. This is in reference to the half-breed children. These are not fully human children and yet the bonding action of the human part of them is so strong that it requires some human bonding for them to survive.

If this is the case with half-breeds, you may understand the importance with the full-breed child. This Awareness is pointing this out in order for entities to recognize the importance of having some kind of solid and meaningful bonding with children, especially with the family, and also there is within each individual that child within so that no matter how old an entity is, there is still within the entity that need for bonding with others. This bonding develops through communication and through the closeness of human contact and the sense of being able to depend on another for comfort and for caring in a relationship that is more than mere contact.

This Awareness indicates that wherein there are relationships that are based upon projects; these do not necessarily constitute a sense of bonding between the individuals, though they may constitute a bonding around the goal of the project. The purpose of the project may hold entities together. The bonding that is necessary for human psychological health is that which comes from feeling someone close who cares.

This Awareness indicates that orphaned children have a poor survival rate unless they have someone in the institution where they are kept who appears to actually care about them. This Awareness wishes entities to understand that this is not something that is to be taken lightly. It is something that is of great importance to the general health of individuals and in the bonding action of letting each other know how much you care about them, of doing things to convey your respect and compassion for the other person; these are the things that make life bearable for others, even when there are perhaps other forms of stress in their lives.
Hug Someone Daily or You Are Shirking Your Duty

This Awareness indicates if you have not hugged someone either physically or embraced them with kind words each day, you are shirking your duty toward others in letting them know you care.

This Awareness suggests that a pat on the shoulders, touching a person’s hand, or any little action of that nature says much to the entity that you care about them. The actions need not be intimate or in any way carry sexual overtones. The actions should simply convey your concern and caring of them so that they feel they have a warm friend.

This Awareness indicates that there are of course some entities that overdo the touching to the point of causing others to feel uncomfortable. This Awareness suggests that you be cautious and not do such things as will cause others to feel a discomfort. If entities do not care for being touched, the touching of comforting words will be helpful to such entities. Just letting them know you are there verbally can go a long way in helping entities to experience a bond with you.

This Awareness indicates also that the bond needs not be one that creates dependency. It should not create a dependency in either direction, where that entity becomes overly dependent on you or you dependent on the other for this would not be healthy, but it can create a relationship in which you assist the other in accordance with your own inclination and desire and concern for them.

Giving Gifts Conditionally & Unconditionally

This Awareness indicates when you give to another; you should not give because you feel obligated to them. You should give rather because you feel inclined to do so. You like to see them receive gifts. You like to see them happy, and you want to give them something. Do it for your own pleasure because their pleasure makes you happy. If you give without feeling joy in the giving, it creates resentment in time so that you feel as though you are resentful of having to give to the entity. These are not times when you should be giving.

A true healthy bonding in relationship is one wherein you give because you enjoy giving and you only give what you have to offer without feeling it is a great sacrifice to you, for if you feel you are sacrificing yourself it will develop a resentment in yourself toward the entity in time. Do not do anything to cause yourself to feel resentful toward the entity and give only because you want to give, and you will never feel resentment toward the entity.

If you give having strings attached, eventually these strings will come back to haunt you, wherein you find yourself saying, “I did all these things for you and you don’t appreciate it. You don’t reciprocate!” This can damage the relationship. You should never give to the point where you feel the entity owes you something because of your gift. Give only because you want to give to the entity, unless you make it clear at the time you are giving that strings will be attached, that there are conditions attached to your gift.

If the entity asks you for help and you don’t want to give it freely, give your conditions along with the help. “I am helping you on condition that you pay me back by doing this and this at this certain date in the future.” The action then becomes a contract, a clear action. It is not mistaken for a gift. A gift does not require a return. If there is a return requested when a gift is offered, or if there is a return expected, then it is not a true gift.

It may be a barter, a trade, or exchange, but the true gift does not require anything in return. It is given out of love or out of some personal reason. This Awareness indicates there are two actions necessary in the giving of a gift: the giver, who offers the gift, and someone to receive it. If there is a condition attached, then the gift becomes a barter or an agreement, which can be binding on the parties.
For example, you may say, “I will give you this car on condition that you get insurance on it.” In that instance you have not given a gift in total, you have given a gift with a condition attached and you may take back the gift if the condition is not met. These are not only clear definitions to allow entities to better understand what constitutes giving, but they are also part of the law in its manner of ruling in regard to contracts and gifts.

This Awareness suggests that in the giving of something to someone, over a period of time, if as time passes you begin to feel resentful that you have given so much and yet you continue to do so, eventually that resentment will increase and you may find yourself becoming angry. If you feel you are obligated to continue giving, you may feel angry at the action of having to keep giving to this person, in which case you should not do so, because it is hard on the relationship. It is disruptive to the true bonding of affection.

The action of asking for something back after you have given it is an action that may be done, but do not necessarily expect it to be returned to you because you gave it to the person. It is now the other person’s property and needs not be returned.

This Awareness indicates there are many times entities like to feel magnanimous and give something to someone, and then later they feel that they were foolish in doing so and they want it back and they become angry if they do not get it back. This kind of behavior is immature and is not recognized as being appropriate, for a gift is a total gift.

You cannot give and then say, “Hey! I gave that to you, and now I want it back!” because a gift is the same as if the other entity had bought it as far as possession is concerned. Once a gift has been accepted, the transaction is complete and the entity that accepted the gift is under no obligation to return it. If you wanted it returned, it should have been stipulated that it was a loan and not a gift. These are things to consider in your relationship in dealing with others and this Awareness wishes you to recognize the value of keeping these things clear, for as you bond with one another, these are areas which tend to cause problems in the bonding, if they are not kept clear.
